

He tried to crack a home run out.
And then right down he sat.
Because, although he swung real hard,
He only cracked his bat.

KINGMONT AND GLASSIES WILL BE ATTRACTION

Teams Evenly Matched, and Fans Expect Some Fast Baseball Games.

Fairmont fans are all set for two big baseball games at South Side Park tomorrow. There will be a game in the morning at 10:30 and one in the afternoon at 3 o'clock. The contending teams will be the Monongah Glass and Kingmont. They represent two of the best baseball organizations in the northern section of the state, and the games should be close and hard fought affairs with the betting odds about even.

In the morning game it is said that Welch will be on the mound for the Kingmont team, with Burns doing the pitching for the Glassies. Both are good pitchers and hits will be few and far between if they are in top form. In the afternoon it is likely that Trader will be on the mound for the visitors and one of the Long boys working for the home folk. Trader is one of the best southpaws in the state, and will be hard to beat if he is feeling right.

One of the largest crowds that ever attended a ball game is expected at the afternoon contest, while a generous outpouring of the fans is expected at the morning contest. The money taken in at the game over the past few days for the running expenses of the game will go to the local chapter of the American Flint Glass Workers, the money being used to help defray the expenses of the national convention of the American Flint Glass Workers which will be held here in July.

It is not likely that a more pleasing game could be arranged for the fans than one between Kingmont and the Monongah Glass. The old Watson Building team could come to life again. Both teams are popular and play good baseball.

The winner of the Dodge automobile will be announced between the first and second half of the seventh inning of the afternoon game.

No Game Played
Local fans who went out to the old fair grounds diamond yesterday afternoon to witness the game between the Hopewell team and the team representing the Fairmont Athletic Club were disappointed as the visiting team failed to show up. No reason was given for the non-appearance of the visitors, and the local players waited to the lot for an hour in the hope that the visitors would put in their appearance in time to play a game. Teams wanting games with the Athletics are requested to call 166-R, or 622-V.

Letter Men to Banquet
All letter men of the Fairmont High School will be entertained at a banquet at the Young Men's Christian Association building tonight. The regular feature of the annual alumni high school game, which was to be played this afternoon, will go toward meeting the expense of the affair.

Baxter Defeated
The Fairmont and Cleveland team annexed another victory yesterday afternoon when the Baxter team was trimmed in a free hitting game by a score of 14 to 5. The feature of the game was the timely hitting of all members of the team and the good work of Brathwood in the box. Horscamp, who pitched for Baxter, was hit hard and often.

To Play Mannington
The East Side High players are preparing for a big time tomorrow morning when they meet the Mannington High nine in a game at Houghtown Park in that city.

The Mannington players won from East Side last Saturday by a score of 11 to 6 and East Side is anxious to wipe out his defeat before the large Memorial Day crowd tomorrow. The local players will leave on the 9 o'clock car and the game will start soon after their arrival in the neighboring city.

Watson Team Wins
The Watson nine won a close and exciting game from the Mannington Independents at Watson yesterday afternoon by a score of 7 to 1. The feature of the game was a home run by Gird of the Watson team with a man on base.

The hit was the longest ever made on the Watson diamond. Third baseman Watson of the Watson team was hit on the head by a batted ball early in the game and painfully injured, while Hartley of the same team had a knee dislocated while at bat late in the game. The Watson team will miss these two players from their lineup for a few days.

Japanese Not Successful at Golf Owing to Wrists
NEW YORK, May 29.—Although they are adept at tennis, Japanese are not successful at golf, due to the smallness of their wrists, which is a national physical characteristic, according to Kajime Kamasaki, Japanese amateur champion, handicaps the Japanese in getting distance with their shots and making recoveries from difficult lies.

The wrist and forearm must be of unusual strength and "be quick muscled" if a tennis player is to return the volleys of such hard hitting players as William Tilden and William M. Johnston.

HOW THEY STAND

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Yesterday's Results.
St. Louis 4, Pittsburgh 3.
New York 8, Philadelphia 1.
Boston 5, Brooklyn 4.
Chicago 8, Cincinnati 7.

Standing of the Clubs.	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	25	15	.619
Pittsburgh	21	19	.525
St. Louis	22	18	.550
Brooklyn	20	20	.500
Cincinnati	21	21	.500
Chicago	18	19	.485
Boston	12	22	.353
Philadelphia	12	25	.324

Games Scheduled Today.
Cincinnati at Pittsburgh.
Boston at Brooklyn.
New York at Philadelphia.
St. Louis at Chicago.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Yesterday's Results.
St. Louis 4, Chicago 2.
Detroit 7, Cleveland 5.
Washington 4, New York 3.
Philadelphia-Boston, not scheduled.

Standing of the Clubs.	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	26	16	.619
St. Louis	22	17	.564
Philadelphia	18	18	.500
Detroit	19	19	.500
Cleveland	19	21	.475
Washington	19	22	.463
Boston	15	19	.441
Chicago	16	22	.421

Games Scheduled Today.
Chicago at Cleveland.
Detroit at St. Louis.
Washington at Boston.
Philadelphia at New York.

FAIRMONT NOT TO PLAY EAST SIDE

Coach Ice Denies Report That Contest Has Been Booked For Thursday.

No game will be played between Fairmont and East Side High Thursday, according to an official announcement from Coach Frank Ice of Fairmont High School this afternoon.

"No such arrangement has been made," declared Coach Ice, "and reports and rumors circulated to that effect are entirely erroneous and without foundations."

"A request for a game was received from East Side High school and was given due consideration. We decided, however, considering the nearness of commencement and the closing of the school, that we would not play. We close our season with the high school alumni contest today."

"In making our decision, we were influenced by the knowledge that the game would be of little importance as the city championship had already been decided in favor of the winning of two games and, whatever the result of Thursday's game might be, nothing could affect our claim to the title."

DRIVERS PREPARE FOR RACE CLASSIC

Tenth Annual Event at Indianapolis Scheduled on Decoration Day.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29.—The last few hours of the shortest of all years, is the opinion of a number of race drivers who planned a long day of work in final preparation for the tenth annual 500 mile automobile race, to be held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway tomorrow.

Many things yet remained to be done before they would be willing to pronounce their mounts in perfect condition, they said, but all expected to be ready at post time.

Four drivers are yet to qualify their cars for the contest. They will take their trials this afternoon and must drive at a speed of not less than 80 miles an hour to earn the right to compete with twenty-five others for nearly $100,000 in prizes which will be distributed to the first ten cars to finish the contest.

William Wilcox, Frank Davidson, William Gardner and Jack Curtner are the men who have failed to date to get their machines in shape to qualify.

WEATHER IDEAL

ANNAPOLIS, May 29.—Ideal weather favored the annual baseball contest between the Annapolis midshipmen and West Point cadets here today. Of the eighteen games between the two service institutions the army has won thirteen, the navy five.

MONONGAH GLASS LOSES TWICE IN WEEK-END GAMES

Normal and Fairview Both Defeat Glassies in Close Contests.

The Monongah Glass baseball team lost two games during the week end dropping a hard fought game to the Fairmont Normal team at South Side Park on Saturday afternoon, the score being 4-3 and on Sunday being defeated by the Fairview nine in a ten inning go, the final count being 5-4. Both games were well attended and also interesting to watch.

Normal Wins
The Fairmont Normal team, with several new players added in the lineup, put up a good fight Saturday and took the Glassies unexpectedly in a real nine inning fight, the winning score being pushed over the top by the last of the ninth after two men had been retired. Voight of the Shinnston team was at short, while "Mike" Hamilton was behind the bat for the Normal outfit. These two players added a lot to the defense and also the offense, as the timely hitting of both was a big help in the run getting for the winners.

The big feature of the contest was a catch by McKain in center field for the Normal team in the eighth inning, when he made a dive after Scagnelli's liner and captured it, robbing the Glassies' outfielder out of a three sacker.

Teters was on the mound for the Normal team and pitched good ball, allowing only eight hits. Charley Long started for the Glassies, but retired in the third inning in favor of his brother, Rat' Long, who pitched good ball the rest of the contest.

Fairview Wins
"Doggie" Haught came back in the limelight yesterday afternoon when he repeated his stunt that he had done many times at South Side Park where he had the habit of breaking up ball games in the old league games. In the last of the tenth in yesterday's game with the Monongah Glass team, Stewart, first man up, was thrown out at first by Burns, who got his slow roller to pitcher's box. "Bill" Ridgely, next up, got a scratch hit through Vingle at first and went to second when Vingle missed Burns' throw in trying to get him napping. Then up stepped "Doggie," who hit the first pitched ball to right field for a safe one, bringing Ridgely across with the winning run. This ended one of the best battles that has been staged at the Fairview grounds this season.

The game was a pitcher's battle between Mitchell and Charley Long. Both were pitching good ball, but the Fairview team managed to get eleven hits off Long, he kept them well scattered. Mitchell allowed the Glassies only five hits in the eight innings he pitched. Tustin started for the Glassies but retired in the second on the account of illness. Mitchell then took up the mound work for the winners. Burns was put in the box in the ninth with the score 4 all. He was touched for two hits, these two being the ones that won the game for the Fairview team.

A fast double-play was the big feature, while the fielding of both teams was sprinkled with some good work.

The lineup and summary follows:	Monongah	AB.	R.	H.	P.	A.	E.
Decker, lf.	5	1	2	1	0	0	0
Belt, ss.	4	0	2	2	3	1	1
Smith, 3b.	4	1	1	1	1	1	1
Knight, 2b.	4	0	0	0	3	0	0
Vingle, lb.	4	0	0	14	0	2	0
Burns, cf-p.	4	0	0	1	1	0	0
Scagnelli, rf.	3	0	0	1	0	0	0
Hefner, c.	3	0	0	1	2	0	0
L. Long, p.-cf.	4	1	0	1	4	0	0
R. Long, rf.-lf.	1	1	0	0	0	0	0

Totals	36	4	5	23	12	3
Fairview	AB.	R.	H.	P.	A.	E.
Ridgely, lf.	2	1	1	1	3	0
Haught, ss.	5	0	2	0	9	1
Summers, rf.	5	1	2	1	0	2
Mitchell, p.	4	1	2	2	0	0
Freeland, cf.	4	1	1	3	3	0
Snodgrass, 3b.	4	1	1	1	6	0
Hines, lb.	4	1	1	1	6	0
Gilleland, lf.	4	1	0	1	0	0
Tustin, p.	0	0	0	0	0	0

*One out when winning run was scored.
Monongah.....010 002 010 0-4
Fairview.....001 003 000 1-5

Two base hits—Belt, Smith, Hines.
Sacrifice hit—Belt.
Stolen bases—Summers, Snodgrass.
Double plays—Knight to Belt to Vingle.
Struck out—by Long, 4; by Mitchell, 4; by Tustin, 2; by Burns, 3.

Hits apportioned—off Long, 11, in 8 innings; off Mitchell, 5 in 8 innings; off Burns, 2 in 2 innings; off Tustin, 0 in 2 innings.
Passed balls—Hefner, Hamilton.
Umpires—Smith and Abbott.

Notes of the Game.
Charley Long pitched good ball and should have won the game easily.

Haught played a good game at short for the winners.

Burns was retired twice on three strikes yesterday, the first time at the hands of Tustin, and his second trip at the hands of Mitchell.

Vingle was a little off at first yesterday, his error on Burns' throw in the tenth helping the winning run across.

Belt was there with the willow yesterday, getting a double and a single out of three trips to the plate.

Scagnelli made a nice catch of Stewart's liner, robbing the catcher of a hit that was marked extra bases.

"Jimmie" Knight failed to hit in his four trips to the plate.

In the ninth, the first inning that Burns pitched, he retired the side with three strike outs. Hines and Snodgrass both struck out without touching the ball.

Hines dropped Haught's good throw, the error letting in two Glassies runs.

Haught dropped an easy chance in the fourth inning, missing a little pop fly.

Hamilton caught a nice game for Normal in the Saturday game.

Many close plays were pulled in the game yesterday and both umpires got money knocks by both players and the fans.

"Sandy" Toothman and Phil Grimes had a little trouble Saturday when Grimes called Hamilton out at the plate in the ninth inning when he tried to score on an infield fly to Knight at second.

"Red" Belts' wild throw in the ninth let Brown in with the winning run. The throw made to first by "Red" was a little low and went passed Vingle, ending the ball game.

Voight smacked a nice one over third, scoring the first Normal run.

Hefner made a bad play when he threw to first with Small on third after he dropped the third strike on Vingle. Small scored easily on the throw.

Knight had three nice hits in the game Saturday.

Teters pitched good ball for the Normal and was given good support by his team-mates.

Scagnelli lined a nice single to left in the second inning, and in the sixth he was robbed of a three bagger when McKain dived and landed his hard liner to left center.

Smith knocked one to the fence for three bases.

INDIANAPOLIS FAILS TO TOP OLD RECORD

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29.—The Indianapolis American Association baseball team was well on its way toward a world record for holding opponents' runless yesterday, according to William Smith, Jr., the club's vice-president. The team lost to the Fairview team in the eighth inning of the second game of a double-header was the first in forty-three consecutive innings.

The record, according to Mr. Smith, was established by the Pittsburgh Nationals, who started June 2, 1903, and blanked their opponents for fifty-two consecutive innings.

The Indianapolis club started last Wednesday at Toledo when Hill pitched a shut out, Indianapolis winning 3 to 0. On Friday "Pug" Cavet blanked Columbus 2 to 0. Harry Weaver followed with a 3 to 0 victory Saturday, and in the first game yesterday Jonnard held Columbus scoreless, the score being 2 to 0.

Hill, pitching again, kept Columbus without a run in the second game until the eighth inning.

News About Boy Scouts

Review of Organization

The Boy Scouts of America is a corporation with executives and departments, conducted on the budget system. The national office of the organization is in the Fifth Avenue Building, New York, and occupies almost one-fourth of one of the floors. In the filing system of every man who has made application for a commission as scoutmaster, is on file. Here, too, are the records from the very beginning of every troop of Boy Scouts and of every scout who joined those troops. It is this registration feature of the system, which more than any other one thing, excepting the standards of the movement, holds the organization together as a great national movement.

The corporation known as the Boy Scouts of America works with all the energy and intelligence and business system of a corporation dealing in oils, coal, hardware, or any other commodity. Its products are boys prepared for citizenship. To the fashioning of this product over 120,000 men throughout the country are giving their services as volunteers, and less than 700 men are serving full time on salary.

The corporate body known as the Boy Scouts of America consists of a national council composed of 843 representatives from all over the United States, elected by their communities. Its officers have always been nationally known men. The president of the United States is the honorary president of the organization, and living ex-presidents automatically become honorary vice-presidents. The national council meets annually to consider progress made and steps to be taken for the ensuing year. The annual meeting to review the year 1921 and legislate for the Boy Scout movement for 1922 met at the LaSalle Hotel in Chicago, March 29 and 30. Between annual meetings the national council functions through an executive board of its own election consisting of not less than twenty-one men. This board meets monthly, and only twice in the past twelve years has it failed to meet and to have a quorum. Decisions of executive board are carried out through the chief scout executive, James E. West, and his staff of department heads and field executives. The departments include finance, field, education, camping, sea scouting, library, publications, scout supplies, the national court of honor, the editorial board and committees on foreign relations, badges, awards and scout requirements. Each department also has a committee composed of successful men of affairs, serving voluntarily. These committees in turn often call into conference men most qualified to advise upon particular problems. A report covering entire transactions of the year, including a detailed financial statement, is made annually to Congress.

It is due to this business-like system that the Boy Scout movement has been kept so free from exploitation by commercial interests, and has maintained its policies and standards from coast to coast. Everywhere a Boy Scout in America stands for the same things. His uniform is the same, his emblem is the same, his program of activities is the same, his aims and ideals are the same.

To establish such standards as the Boy Scouts of America have, has required and still requires immense correspondence, most thorough records, the issuance of countless pieces of literature, the production of standard manuals for scouts and leaders, the directing of national educational publicity, oversight of the manufacture, sale and distribution of uniforms, insignia and accessories used by scouts, finding and training the right men, as scoutmasters and scout executives, establishing requirements for scout camps and supervising such camps, production of a special magazine for scouts, editorial sponsorship for a great many books of fiction written around the Boy Scout idea, critical censorship of many motion pictures proposed and produced around the Boy Scout, adjusting scout membership fees and costs of supplies to the needs of the boys and of the organization at the same time, and securing from the general public the financial support necessary beyond the income from such sources, to carry on all this activity in behalf of boyhood.

A most important feature of the organization is insistence upon a democratic form of supervision. Local troops are responsible to the institution with which they are connected, and the institution is responsible to the national organization. Where there are several troops in a community, a local council is formed with representatives from each institution and from the civic organizations and other interests of the community. The local council then supervises the local work and is responsible to the national organization. Again, the whole United States is divided into twelve regions, and in each region the presidents of local councils and the resident members of the national council constitute a regional committee with general oversight of scout work within its territory, the committee being in turn responsible to the national council. In this way a minimum of direct administration from the national office is achieved and maximum freedom is assured to each community in its scout work in keeping with the constitution and by-laws of the Boy Scouts of America under the charter granted by Congress.

Adopt Resolution
At a monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of New York, a report and resolution were unanimously adopted recommending members and others "that their properly qualified employees be encouraged and given the time to be trained to become scoutmasters and to act in that capacity, believing that such action will be helpful both to the men themselves and to their regular work, and also to the boys of the community."

The report was submitted by the committee on commercial education. After reviewing the elements in the Boy Scout program which make for better boys and better citizens by taking care of their spare time as well as their superfluous energy, teaching them what they want to learn in a way that builds up both mind and body, and gives initiative, reliance and self-direction, the committee urges that heads of business organizations should encourage employees who have the right qualifications to take the training necessary for service as scoutmasters, and that the time required for the training and for service afterward should be freely donated by employers.

The great seal herd of the North Pacific, under adequate protection has increased to 600,000.

Persons closely connected with the estate say that it will pay approximately 65 per cent on the claims protected by heirs but the unprotected claims will realize much smaller part of their claims.

The report was submitted by the committee on commercial education. After reviewing the elements in the Boy Scout program which make for better boys and better citizens by taking care of their spare time as well as their superfluous energy, teaching them what they want to learn in a way that builds up both mind and body, and gives initiative, reliance and self-direction, the committee urges that heads of business organizations should encourage employees who have the right qualifications to take the training necessary for service as scoutmasters, and that the time required for the training and for service afterward should be freely donated by employers.

The report was submitted by the committee on commercial education. After reviewing the elements in the Boy Scout program which make for better boys and better citizens by taking care of their spare time as well as their superfluous energy, teaching them what they want to learn in a way that builds up both mind and body, and gives initiative, reliance and self-direction, the committee urges that heads of business organizations should encourage employees who have the right qualifications to take the training necessary for service as scoutmasters, and that the time required for the training and for service afterward should be freely donated by employers.

The report was submitted by the committee on commercial education. After reviewing the elements in the Boy Scout program which make for better boys and better citizens by taking care of their spare time as well as their superfluous energy, teaching them what they want to learn in a way that builds up both mind and body, and gives initiative, reliance and self-direction, the committee urges that heads of business organizations should encourage employees who have the right qualifications to take the training necessary for service as scoutmasters, and that the time required for the training and for service afterward should be freely donated by employers.

gram of activities is the same, his aims and ideals are the same.

To establish such standards as the Boy Scouts of America have, has required and still requires immense correspondence, most thorough records, the issuance of countless pieces of literature, the production of standard manuals for scouts and leaders, the directing of national educational publicity, oversight of the manufacture, sale and distribution of uniforms, insignia and accessories used by scouts, finding and training the right men, as scoutmasters and scout executives, establishing requirements for scout camps and supervising such camps, production of a special magazine for scouts, editorial sponsorship for a great many books of fiction written around the Boy Scout idea, critical censorship of many motion pictures proposed and produced around the Boy Scout, adjusting scout membership fees and costs of supplies to the needs of the boys and of the organization at the same time, and securing from the general public the financial support necessary beyond the income from such sources, to carry on all this activity in behalf of boyhood.

A most important feature of the organization is insistence upon a democratic form of supervision. Local troops are responsible to the institution with which they are connected, and the institution is responsible to the national organization. Where there are several troops in a community, a local council is formed with representatives from each institution and from the civic organizations and other interests of the community. The local council then supervises the local work and is responsible to the national organization. Again, the whole United States is divided into twelve regions, and in each region the presidents of local councils and the resident members of the national council constitute a regional committee with general oversight of scout work within its territory, the committee being in turn responsible to the national council. In this way a minimum of direct administration from the national office is achieved and maximum freedom is assured to each community in its scout work in keeping with the constitution and by-laws of the Boy Scouts of America under the charter granted by Congress.

Adopt Resolution
At a monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of New York, a report and resolution were unanimously adopted recommending members and others "that their properly qualified employees be encouraged and given the time to be trained to become scoutmasters and to act in that capacity, believing that such action will be helpful both to the men themselves and to their regular work, and also to the boys of the community."

The report was submitted by the committee on commercial education. After reviewing the elements in the Boy Scout program which make for better boys and better citizens by taking care of their spare time as well as their superfluous energy, teaching them what they want to learn in a way that builds up both mind and body, and gives initiative, reliance and self-direction, the committee urges that heads of business organizations should encourage employees who have the right qualifications to take the training necessary for service as scoutmasters, and that the time required for the training and for service afterward should be freely donated by employers.

The report was submitted by the committee on commercial education. After reviewing the elements in the Boy Scout program which make for better boys and better citizens by taking care of their spare time as well as their superfluous energy, teaching them what they want to learn in a way that builds up both mind and body, and gives initiative, reliance and self-direction, the committee urges that heads of business organizations should encourage employees who have the right qualifications to take the training necessary for service as scoutmasters, and that the time required for the training and for service afterward should be freely donated by employers.

The report was submitted by the committee on commercial education. After reviewing the elements in the Boy Scout program which make for better boys and better citizens by taking care of their spare time as well as their superfluous energy, teaching them what they want to learn in a way that builds up both mind and body, and gives initiative, reliance and self-direction, the committee urges that heads of business organizations should encourage employees who have the right qualifications to take the training necessary for service as scoutmasters, and that the time required for the training and for service afterward should be freely donated by employers.

Adopt Resolution
At a monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of New York, a report and resolution were unanimously adopted recommending members and others "that their properly qualified employees be encouraged and given the time to be trained to become scoutmasters and to act in that capacity, believing that such action will be helpful both to the men themselves and to their regular work, and also to the boys of the community."

The report was submitted by the committee on commercial education. After reviewing the elements in the Boy Scout program which make for better boys and better citizens by taking care of their spare time as well as their superfluous energy, teaching them what they want to learn in a way that builds up both mind and body, and gives initiative, reliance and self-direction, the committee urges that heads of business organizations should encourage employees who have the right qualifications to take the training necessary for service as scoutmasters, and that the time required for the training and for service afterward should be freely donated by employers.

The report was submitted by the committee on commercial education. After reviewing the elements in the Boy Scout program which make for better boys and better citizens by taking care of their spare time as well as their superfluous energy, teaching them what they want to learn in a way that builds up both mind and body, and gives initiative, reliance and self-direction, the committee urges that heads of business organizations should encourage employees who have the right qualifications to take the training necessary for service as scoutmasters, and that the time required for the training and for service afterward should be freely donated by employers.

The report was submitted by the committee on commercial education. After reviewing the elements in the Boy Scout program which make for better boys and better citizens by taking care of their spare time as well as their superfluous energy, teaching them what they want to learn in a way that builds up both mind and body, and gives initiative, reliance and self-direction, the committee urges that heads of business organizations should encourage employees who have the right qualifications to take the training necessary for service as scoutmasters, and that the time required for the training and for service afterward should be freely donated by employers.

The report was submitted by the committee on commercial education. After reviewing the elements in the Boy Scout program which make for better boys and better citizens by taking care of their spare time as well as their superfluous energy, teaching them what they want to learn in a way that builds up both mind and body, and gives initiative, reliance and self-direction, the committee urges that heads of business organizations should encourage employees who have the right qualifications to take the training necessary for service as scoutmasters, and that the time required for the training and for service afterward should be freely donated by employers.

The report was submitted by the committee on commercial education. After reviewing the elements in the Boy Scout program which make for better boys and better citizens by taking care of their spare time as well as their superfluous energy, teaching them what they want to learn in a way that builds up both mind and body, and gives initiative, reliance and self-direction, the committee urges that heads of business organizations should encourage employees who have the right qualifications to take the training necessary for service as scoutmasters, and that the time required for the training and for service afterward should be freely donated by employers.

estate of John T. McGraw, had made their final report.

The decree covers about half of the McGraw estate largely situated in and around Grafton. Some of the property, including the famous Webster Springs Hotel at Webster Springs, was not in the sale and will be readvertised and sold at a later date. However, the famous resort will be leased and opened to the public in a short time.